Training Manager
Centris Federal Credit Union

Why Centris Federal Credit Union partners with Bellevue University to offer valuable education benefits.

When Centris Federal Credit Union wanted to develop a top-notch leadership program, they tapped Bellevue University for the job. “I wanted to partner with a credible organization that was an expert in leadership development,” said Robin Fredieu, Training Manager. “Called CentrisUp, the custom program is taught by industry experts from, and associated with, Bellevue University. It focuses on the management skills Centris employees need to grow and develop, and it provides a practical application that participants implement in real-time on the job.

“We’ve seen results in behavior changes and how graduates interact with their teams. We know that the more we invest in our employees, the happier and more engaged they will be – and that translates to providing our members the best experience possible. This aligns with the Centris Service Promise of providing a highly trained and knowledgeable staff to serve members’ needs.”
